Georgia State and GU hereby agree to the following:

1. Description of Program

The Mevlana Exchange Programme is a funded program of the Turkish Council of Higher Education. The program aims to encourage exchange of students and academic staff for the purpose of cross-cultural awareness and bilateral and regional understanding. This agreement ("Agreement") is established to encourage faculty members and researchers from each university to visit the other university and engage in certain activities ("Faculty/Researcher Exchange"). With respect to the Faculty/Researcher Exchange, as used herein, "Home University" shall mean the university where the faculty member and/or researcher is normally employed, and "Host University" shall mean the university that the faculty member and/or researcher is visiting.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the term of this Agreement shall not extend beyond one academic year if Georgia State assumes any financial obligations by entering into this Agreement and, in no event shall the term of this Agreement extend beyond five academic years. This Agreement may be renewed for additional academic years or five year renewal terms, as applicable, upon the advance written agreement of both parties.
The academic year at Georgia State consists of two regular semesters: the Fall semester begins in August and ends in mid-December, and the Spring semester begins in January and runs into May. Language requirements apply only to the faculty and researchers and not to their spouses and dependents.

Each Host University shall have final authority over decisions regarding the acceptance of faculty and researchers from the Home University to participate in research, teaching or other activities.

The Host University will update the Home University annually regarding the data and documentation required. It is each scholar’s responsibility to obtain the appropriate visa, as required by the host country. Each Host University agrees to provide office space and appropriate administrative support for visiting faculty and researchers.
11. Compliance with Rules and Regulations

Exchange faculty members/researchers will be subject to the rules and regulations of the Host Institution, and the laws and procedures of the state or canton in which the institution is located.

The Host Institution will assume no responsibility for a faculty member’s/researcher’s conduct or lack of compliance with any of the host country’s laws. If a faculty member/researcher voluntarily withdraws or is dismissed for disciplinary reasons before the end of the Exchange Program, the program will be considered completed by the Host University with respect to that faculty member/researcher. No replacements will be sent to the Host University for faculty members/researchers who do not complete the Exchange Program. Furthermore, each Host University reserves the right to require a faculty member/researcher to withdraw from the Program if the faculty member’s/researcher’s academic performance or personal misconduct warrants such action, provided, however, the Host University will, absent extenuating circumstances, attempt to consult with the Home University before implementing such action. The dismissal of a faculty member/researcher shall not abrogate this Agreement, or the arrangements regarding other faculty members/researchers.

12. Research

To the extent allowable by law, the parties may engage in joint research, conference participation, publication of research results and other research-related activity. The parties understand and agree that certain research sponsors may limit participation on specific research projects in the host country. The parties further understand and agree to secure all University and other required approvals prior to conducting research activities and to abide by all policies and procedures governing such activities.

If exchange faculty or researchers participate in research funded by a third party sponsor, the parties agree that such research activities will abide by the terms of the sponsorship agreement. If exchange faculty or researchers receive third party confidential information for research purposes that was provided under a written nondisclosure or confidential disclosure agreement, the parties agree that the exchange faculty and researchers will be bound by the confidentiality and nondisclosure terms of such agreement.

Exchange faculty and researchers pledge to disclose any intellectual property developed as a result of joint research to both the Host and Home Institutions unless such disclosure is unlawful under the law of the Host Institution’s country. If valuable intellectual property is created as a result of joint research, ownership of such intellectual property shall be determined in accordance with the law of inventorship or authorship of the country in which the research occurred and the Host Institution’s policies. The parties agree that the Host Institution will evaluate the intellectual property, in consultation with the other party, to determine whether formal patent, copyright, or other protection is desirable.

13. Modification, Termination, Renewal of Agreement

This Agreement may be modified, revised, or renewed but only upon the mutual consent of the parties in writing. Either party may terminate this Agreement by written notice submitted at least 90 days in advance of the next academic semester.
